The Mackety family, from the Nottawaseppi Huron Band of the Potawatomi, are Nas-wau-kee's known descendants. The Nottawaseppi Huron Band of descendants. Potawatomi reservation is at Fulton, Michigan, Some of their ancestors lived in Indiana in the 1830s, the most famous of which was Chief Nas-wau-kee. He and his brother, Quash-qua, had reservations at Maxinkuckee, Culver, Indiana In 1837 they were conducted west to Kansas. The 47 Potawatomi journeyed from Potawatomi journeyed from August 23 to October 23, 1837, without loss of life (unlike the 1838 Trail of Death, on which 42 died of 859 Potawatomi on the trip). At Nas-wau-kee's urging Christian established St. Mary's Mission at Sugar Creek, Kansas, where the Potawatomi lived 1838-1849, A historical marker there records the chief as Nesfwawke.

A historical marker for Chief Nas-wau-kee will be dedicated Sept. 16 at 5 p.m. at lake Maxinkuckee, Culver. The marker is a big boulder with a metal plaque, the Eagle Scout project of Bryan McKinney, Winamac Troop 229, which has several members from Culver also. Bryan is a senior at Winamac High School. The historical marker will be located in the Culver park just east of the beach, at the start of the "Indian Trails" that lead to Culver Military Academy.

A carry-in supper will be held immediately after the dedication at the home of Rick and Julia Bayter at 16787 - 18 B Road, This house is located on the former Nas-wau-kee reservation. Nancy Baxter, Indianapolis author of several books about Indiana history, will provide drinks and tableware. Bring your own folding chair and two covered dishes of food to share.

Caston Elementary seeking volunteers

Caston Elementary will again be using community help in the school.

Community Volunteer This Program, chaired by Michaela Slisher, will be starting placement soon. It is anticipated that volunteers will have the opportunity to be utilized in all as of the elementary school. Although most of the volunteers parents, all community members are strongly urged to ate. The students like to see grandparents, aunts, unclés, past graduates and others, too. Volunteers will need to agree to a criminal history check, which will be at the expense of the volunteer, in order to participate in the program.

volunteer call out meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Tuesday, September 13, in the library for those who are interested improving the students and the school. Many times people think that if they only have one hour per week to volunteer it isn't worth asking if their help is needed. But, one hour a week can make a huge difference in a student's life. The call out meeting is for everyone, meeting is for everyone, regardless of how much time they have to give. Don't worry about being "smarter than a 5 grader", you will be free to select the area(s) you are interested in and, if needed, training will be provided so you are comfortable with your choice(s).

If you know you are already interested, contact Michaela at 574-727-2866 or send an email to slisher@rtcol.com with your name, address and telephone number. She has already been compiling a list of volunteers for the current school year Please consider joining this worthwhile program. Help make it another successful year by getting the word out about this informational meeting.

Church of Christ to celebrate 165 years

The Kewanna Church of Christ invites all former members and friends to join them in celebrating 165 years of serving God in Kewanna. The celebration will include the annual hog roast at the home of John and Lorna Mollencupp this Saturday, September 10, and the Sunday morning worship service on September 11. The hog roast begins at noon and those attending should bring a side dish or dessert to share. Sunday activities include the worship service beginning at 10:20 a.m., followed by a pitch-in dinner. For more information, call the church at 574-653-2496.

As early as 1840 a group of evers met together in homes to study the Bible. These meetings were at irregular intervals, but they consistently met together. In December 1846, the members of this group met for the purpose of el trustees whose duty it would be to buy property on which to construct a building. Greenup

Troutman, Ephraim Dukes and James Elliot were chosen as trustees and they promptly purchased a lot in the town of Kewanna. A building was not immediately constructed in town but the members met in building about two miles west of town on a lot donated by William

M. Hathaway. By 1876, the property in town had grown in value and was sold. The church then bought another lot one block south of the business portion of town on Logan Street where the church remains to this day. The building was remodeled in 1908, 1927 and 1968. A more complete history can be obtained from the church by those interested.

The congregation thanks God for the early leaders of its congregation and the ministers through the years. It has fallen to the current membership to continue the work begun so long ago. It is the church's prayer that God will continue to bless His work in the town of Kewanna and the surrounding area. Everyone is invited to join the current congregation as it celebrates God's work through the years.

"Slices of Life"

By: Fill Pertler

"When is 9/11?"

The question comes from my youngest son. I tell him the day is next Sunday. The answer isn't at he's looking for

"When was the first one?" he

I know what he's getting at: When did the date September 11 become the number 9/11 - with connotations more far-reaching than any of us could fathom? "It was before you were born,"

sav. remembering protruding belly that morning as I watched the early news and witnessed hijacked planes fly through the Twin Towers in New York. First one. Then another. A third plane crashed into the Pentagon and a fourth - intended for a target in Washington D.C. went down in a field in Pennsylvania Chances are - like me - you remember exactly where you were the morning of September 11, 2001. We do because 9/11 took us to places we never envisioned going. Things like that stick with you, not necessarily in a good way.

I was in my kitchen, very pregnant, wiping toast crumbs from the table. When the first plane hit. I assumed it was a mistake - pilot error. Had to be. It didn't dawn on me that someone - anyone - would go to such extreme measures to hurt the people of the United States, It was beyond my imagination to comprehend that kind of hate.

My reality changed that day. I dropped the damp dishcloth I'd been holding and stared at the TV in dishelief. As the truth set in, I was overcome with the essence of being an American For perhaps the first time in my life I understood what that - to the core. As I meant watched, glued to the news reporter's every word, my unborn son wriggled and kicked while the Twin Towers toppled. I stood in my kitchen, observing the tragedy from far away, unable to do anything except pray and hold onto the optimism that comes with new life

It's been 10 years since the "first" 9/11. Much is being done to commemorate the occasion There are important and influential people providing insight about the events. There exhibitions presentations. Politicians will give eloquent and articulate speeches. TV specials will air. Artifacts will be displayed. Children who lost their parents will speak from the heart.

Firefighters will provide firsthand viewpoints. We have much to learn and remember. When I first considered writing about the 9/11 anniversary, crept in. doubt I am insignificant bystander watching from a thousand miles away What could I possibly say that others more prominent and connected haven't better already expressed in an intelligent manner superior to anything I could ever hope for? Then it dawned on me: The truth about why the tragedy of 9/11 will not be forgotten and why someone like little old me can have a voice in the aftermath speaks to the greatness of our ountry. The United States is not built on bricks and mortar but on individuals. I may not have power or prestige, but I do have pen and paper – as well as the freedom to use them. That seemingly minor fact is not minor at all.

The real loss of 9/11 wasn't about the Twin Towers, crashed jet airplanes or the material goods destroyed. It wasn't about things. It was about people – the individual losses endured by mothers, fathers, wives husbands, children, friends and families during and after September 11, 2001. Those good people who will never be replaced provide me the freedom to speak out, because they died for what gives our country meaning: its individuals.

I may not be a celebrity. I may not be rich or influential, but I do matter. We all do. In the United States, each of us is significant. Terrorists tried to steal that from us on 9/11, but they failed.

My son asks about 9/11 a date that happened before he was born. I answer him with the truth as best I can at the level he is at because it is important he learns and remembers, so he can pass the knowledge on to those after us. And so on My thoughts and prayers go out to everyone who was touched by the tragedy and violence of September 11, 2001. This column is dedicated to and in honor of each of you.

KEWANNA TOWN COUNCIT

The Kewanna town council met in regular session at 7 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 1, at the town hall. Those present included the council members, Jeff Finke, Dan Birge and Mark Smith; clerktreasurer, Jenny Kay; superintendent, Mike Molitor; deputy marshal, Chris Sailors; BCS owner, Ryan Mihalic and Fulton County first deputy surveyor, Tom Chudzynski and his wife, Cheri.

The minutes of the August regular meeting and special meetings were read and approved.

The fire report was distributed prior to the meeting. It revealed town responses, medical, and six township responses, one fire and five medical. Training involved drivers' training on all vehicles and familiarization of address locations.

The first deputy surveyor was present to answer questions on the proposed reconstruction of the McKinsey tile. A total of 718.47 acres will benefit from the project and the estimated cost to the town is currently $42,900. A public hearing on the proposed project will be held at 10:15 a.m. Monday, Sept. 12.

Ryan Mihalic, owner of BCS computers, discussed a proposal for the town/park in which his would cameras. company install surveillance council determined this would be beneficial and suggested that he speak to the township park board as well.

Superintendent Mike Molitor submitted his report. The council discussed the part-time summer position and opted to hire a replacement.

The monthly reported noted that Peerless Midwest was called in to pull an irrigator pump at the sewage treatment plant that had a bad bearing. An old motor was put on in its place in case employees needed to irrigate before the pump could be repaired. A motor was also pulled at the No. 1 lift station and a spare put in due to electrical problems. The new town employee observed so he could problems. ecome familiar with the pumps. Another storm moved through the area, but this time it only took out fuses down by the park and the alley behind the bank. ID's Service Center has finished work on the town's 34 ton pickup that was damaged in a wreck some time ago. The truck was then taken to Jeff's Tire in Winamac. The truck will be stored until parts become available. Paper work was filled out and sent to the Department of Natural Resources for a goose ermit. The superintendent and his new assistant did a couple of locates so he could learn how to use the maps and locator for tracing water lines. Weeds in town and at the sewage treatment plant were sprayed. DeSabatine's installed a tile on Phillips Street from East Street to Railroad Street This should take care of standing water problems at the end of Phillips. They also in a new tile wastewater treatment plant. Tree limbs boarding the streets were trimmed so they will not hit the leaf box this fall as leaves are being picked up. Repairs were made to the town mower and weed eater. The superintendent helped his assistant read meters

so he could learn their location and the names of users. Work was done on the bucket truck in preparation for selling it. Water test kits were ordered from the lab so the annual testing can be done. Work was performed on some of the valving at the wastewater lagoon. The front tires on the dump truck were replaced. The sander was taken off the dump truck, cleaned and greased. A faucet was replaced in the town garage. The pumped a total 1,267,000 gallons of water during August.

Deputy Chris Sailors submitted the monthly police report in the absence of Marshal Dennis absence of Marshal Dennis Price. The report revealed one traffic arrest; three traffic warnings; four criminal arrests: 53 calls answered; one vehicle check and 1,325 miles patrolled. The mowing ordinance was discussed. Letters will be drawn up to send to a number of idents who are in violation. A hearing on the 2012 budget was held, as advertised, with no comments from taxpavers.

Claims for the library addition, town, water and sewage works were okayed for payment.

Letter To The Editor...

Value of the library addition

The million dollar addition to the Kewanna-Union Township Public Library is a miracle on Main Street. Framed by two historic homes in the designated Kewanna historic district, the new library addition is worth every penny to the community township. More than a library, it is also a recreational and cultural center. The library is a locally tax-supported public institution that belongs to the people of west central Fulton County. Financially it is amazing that the original Carnegie library was constructed by a grant from the Carnegie grant from the Carnegie Corporation for $8,000 in 1913-1914

It was unfortunate that the library addition was a long time coming; that it should have been constructed 20 to 30 years ago when other neighboring libraries in our area were expanding.

It should be a top priority of the Kewanna town board to work with the owners to restore the remaining late 19th century Italianate-style buildings on Main to their original grandeur (tax incentives, restoration grants, economic zone). No other social or political organization exists in Kewanna except the town board to take a leadership role to improve Main Street, center of our the community.

Ruth Cogdill enjoyed the company of three of her children day, Aug. 29. Jane Teeter of Bluffton and Tim Coudill of Macv joined Ruth and her son, Mike Cogdill of Eagle River, Alaska, a wonderful morning visit Both brothers played quitar for their sister and mother. The day beautiful. the coffee delicious and the fellowship family was the best. In the ning, Mike and Ruth drove to the Leiters Ford Tavern for a nelt dinner. On their way back to town, they drove around lake Bruce. Mike and Ruth recalled so many days of long ago when the ogdill child en spent lo days at the lake. Many times the rode their bikes out to the lake, but played so hard they them up. Nothing tasted better

LaFollette Wilmington, Delaware arrived Monday for a weeklong visit with his family. He spent Monday eguest of h brother and family Chris and LaFollette, Michelle, al, Rebecca, Elizabeth and
