KEWANNA TOWN COUNCIL

The Kewanna town council met in regular session Thursday, Sept. 2, at the town hall. Those present included Jeff Finke, council president; Dan Birge and Mark Smith, council members; Jenny Kay, clerk-treasurer; Dennis Price, town marshal; Ted Waggoner, Rachel Arndt, and Mark Henderson, representing Winamac Coil Spring; Jay Cunningham, fire chief; and Rich Hoff, local resident.

Rich Hoff requested more specific information regarding the open ditch the town would like to put on his property. It was decided that the council and Hoff would meet on his property after the crops are harvested to make a better assessment as to what will need to be done.

Attorney Ted Waggoner presented a request from Winamac Coil Spring for a tax abatement for an addition and other improvements to the factory. The request was approved.

Jay Cunningham submitted the fire report with a reminder that the annual flow testing will soon be due. As an EMS advisory board member, Cunningham noted the Kewanna unit has 92 runs and budgetary figures are right on track. There is a request to look into increasing the height of the far east garage door to accommodate a new EMS rig. Estimates will be required before any decision can be made. Lastly, as a township board member, Cunningham thanked the water department for printing a small survey on the water bills regarding interest in shuffle board at the park.

The August fire report notes five town responses, four fire and one medical and six township responses, two fire and four medical. Training involved fire streams and fire behavior.

Marshal Dennis Price and Superintendent Mike Molitor submitted their reports prior to the meeting. Price added that the festival schedule for extra coverage has been prepared.

The August marshal's report revealed four traffic warnings, one criminal arrest, 57 calls answered, one vehicle check and 1,574 miles patrolled. The department participated in a range day August 26 at the Sandbur Gun Ranch, Rochester.

The superintendent's report noted that the warning light and buzzer at the No. 1 lift station have been moved to make them more visible. An amp meter was also installed so that warnings will be sounded sooner allowing the pumps to be cleaned before major problems evolve.

A couple of problems at the sewage treatment site were corrected. The end gun on the irrigator was not turning off in some areas. Irrigation Solutions found that all of the small pressure lines to the end gun had been chewed on, possibly by squirrels. Another problem concerned pumps turning off during irrigating. It was

Fire department conducting fundraiser

The Kewanna-Union Township Volunteer Fire Department is conducting a fundraiser. Representatives will be going door to door throughout the department's protection area asking for a $20 donation. These donations will be used to purchase needed equipment in order to update and improve their service to the community.

Each household or business that makes a contribution will be offered a complimentary family portrait as a thank you for their support.

determined that weeds around the inlet pipes to the contact tank were the problem.

Problems also occurred at the No. 2 lift station that involved failure of the No. 1 lift station. It was finally determined that thermo switch wires for the No. 1 pump were causing the trouble. The pump might have to be pulled and replaced.

A meeting was held with the engineer and contractor for the storm drain project. Dates were set to come in and finish the streets and yard work. The punch list will be worked on at that time also.

A rear tire was replaced on the town's mower and the parking brake system was worked on.

The annual water samples for testing required by the state were pulled and taken to the lab in South Bend.

A repair was made to the new water line installed at the old well house when a leak developed in a fitting.

A sink hole at the corner of Toner and Phillips streets was repaired.

Dirt, concrete and black top was removed from around the ambulance building where new concrete was poured. The paint on the building was also touched up.

Assistant superintendent, Danny Chew, is attending waste water classes in Logansport. He also took two chain saws to Culver for repairs, is running wastewater samples to Rensselaer for testing, piled up the debris at the town dump, filled in ruts on Toner Street, concreted the floor at the old well house where the new water line comes in and made repairs to the town's tractor.

The water works pumped a total of 1,210,700 gallons in August.

Change order No. 5 and a pay request from Territorial Engineering were approved. A hearing on the 2011 budget was conducted as advertised. There were no comments from taxpayers. A hearing will be held Sept. 20 on additional appropriations from the Rainy Day Fund.

The October meeting has been changed from Thursday, Oct. 7 to Wednesday, Oct. 6, at 7 p.m.

Claims against the town, water and sewage works were okayed for payment.

Sept. 30 is the final date for farmers to apply for the 2008 Supplemental Revenue Assistance Payment (SURE) program. This program assists those farmers who experienced at least a ten percent overall loss in revenue of an eligible crop commodity. The loss must have occurred over their entire farming operation, all farms in all counties in which they had an interest. Producers must contact their local Farm Service Agency office to schedule an appointment. Applications not filed by Sept. 30 will not be eligible. There are no provisions for late-filed applications.

V.I.P. (Visually Impaired People) will meet at 1 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 14, at the Von Tobel Center in Winamac. Anyone with vision problems and other interested persons are welcome to attend.

The Nyona-South Mud Lakes Booster Association will serve a baked steak dinner from 5 to 7 p.m. Saturday at its clubhouse, 2999 N. Knoll Drive.

Anyone interested in helping to maintain and monitor the Nickel Plate Trail should attend a meeting at the Fulton County Wellness Center at 5:30 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 15.

Wind generator information meeting

The Grass Creek Fire Station will be the site of an informational meeting concerning possible large wind generators coming to Fulton County. The program will be held at 7 p.m. Monday, September 13. The fire station is located on State Road 17 in Grass Creek.

With the talk of possible large wind generators coming into Fulton and surrounding counties, landowners need to be aware of how they may be affected. Purdue Cooperative Extension Service has organized a meeting to help inform people about how they may be affected by placing generators on their land. This program will feature Chad Martin, Purdue Renewable Energy Extension Specialist, who will present an overview of the state of the wind power industry in Indiana. Curt Emanuel, Extension Educator, Agriculture in Clinton County will talk about the basic lease provisions and the construction process. Landowners need to think about lease length, construction damage and many other items.

For more information, contact Mark Kepler, Agriculture Educator for Purdue Cooperative Service in Fulton County at 574-223-3397.

DEATHS .....

ELNORA W. BAKER

Services were held at 11 a.m. Tuesday, September 7, at the Harrison-Metzger & Rans Funeral Home, Kewanna chapel, for Elnora W. Baker, 91, Kewanna. Pastor David Sommers and Pastor Chris Tiedeman officiated and burial was in the Kewanna Citizens IOOF Cemetery. Mrs. Baker passed away at 9:10 a.m. Wednesday, September 1, 2010 at Hickory Creek in Winamac.

Born June 14, 1919 in Miami County, she was the daughter of the late William and Mabel (Miller) Yoder. On November 11, 1938, she married Forrest M. Baker who preceded her in death October 29, 2009. Her father passed away in 1921 so the man she called "dad" most of her life was her step-father, the late Joseph E. Bucks.

She was a 1937 graduate of Royal Center High School. A homemaker and farm wife, she was a member of the Kewanna United Methodist Church and a former member of the Royal Center Order of Eastern Star.

She enjoyed traveling, canoeing and helping friends and she especially loved to spend time with her family.

Survivors include a son, Bruce Baker and his wife Denise, Kewanna; a daughter, Karen Good and her husband Joe, Kewanna; a brother, Larry Bucks and his wife Pat, Rochester; four grandchildren, Kelly Smith and her husband Mark, Kewanna, Jeffrey Good and his wife Tonya, Indianapolis, Ryan Baker and his wife Leslie, Avon, and Daniel Baker and his wife Andrea, Lucerne; eight great-grandchildren, Lindsey Smith, Kara Smith, Zachary Smith, Sami Good, Jeffrey J. Good, Tosha Nice, Allie Nice and Devin Good; one great-great-grandson, Shayne Good; and several nieces and nephews. She was preceded in death by her brother, William T. Yoder.

A visitation was held Monday evening at the funeral home. Memorial contributions may be made to the Kewanna United Methodist Church, P.O. Box 398, Kewanna, IN 46939. Online condolences may be sent to www.harrisonmetzger.com.

DAVID GLENN BERRY

Funeral services were held at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday at Gundrum Funeral Home in Logansport for David Glenn Berry, 49, Kewanna. Pastor Dirk Raderstorf officiated. Berry passed away at 6:10 p.m. Thursday, September 2, 2010 in Austin, Texas.

Born August 9, 1961 in Logansport, he was the son of Thomas James and Lois E. Vogel Berry. On March 5, 1983, he married Melanie J. Davis, who survives.

David was an instrumental part of the family business, Jim Berry and Sons, Inc., and was also a farmer. He frequently traveled to Texas to buy trucks and trailers. He would add grain beds and sell them to farmers and other businesses.

He was a 1979 graduate of Caston High School and a member of the Lucerne Christian Church, Wayne Township Volunteer Fire Department and Wayne Township Advisory Board.

Survivors include his wife, Melanie J. Berry, Kewanna; a son, Adam Berry and his wife Ashly, Logansport; a daughter, Hali Berry, Kewanna; his mother, Lois E. Berry, Kewanna; two brothers, Jim Berry and his wife Sharon and Pat Berry and his wife Tracy, all of Kewanna; two sisters, Ellen King and her husband Don, Rochester, and Kathy Green and her husband Ron, Kewanna; one granddaughter, Genevieve Grace Berry; and several nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his father, Thomas James Berry; and his mother-in-law, Ruth Ann Davis.

Memorials may be made to the Lucerne Christian Church, the Genevieve Grace Berry College Fund or the Wayne Township Volunteer Fire Department.

Online condolences may be sent to www.gundrumfuneralhome.com.

Caston seeking volunteers

Caston Elementary School is implementing a new program this school year. Community volunteer help, which has been widely used in the past, will now be an official program chaired by Michaela Slisher, a parent volunteer who participated as a part of the community council for InSAI. It is anticipated that volunteers will have the opportunity to be utilized in all areas of the elementary school - the library, cafeteria, gym, classrooms, etc. Although most of the volunteers seen in the school are parents, all community members are urged to participate. The students like to see grandparents, aunts, uncles, graduates and others, too. Volunteers will need to agree to have a criminal history check completed, which will be at no expense to the volunteer, in order to participate in the program.

A volunteer call out meeting will be held Tuesday, September 14, at 6:30 p.m. in the library for those who are interested in improving the students and the school. Many times people think that if they have only one hour per week to give, it isn't worth asking if their help is needed. Caston Elementary would like for those people to know that one hour per week can make a huge difference in a student's life! The call out meeting is for everyone, regardless of how much time they have to give. Volunteers will be free to select the area(s) they are interested in working and the school will provide training to make them comfortable with their choices.

Interested persons can contact Michaela at 574-727-2866 or email her at slisher@rtcol.com with their name, address and phone number.

HOW KEWANNA GOT ITS NAME

In the next several issues of the paper we will publish an interesting historical record, compiled and written by Professor Bromley Smith, expressly for publication in The Observer. The series of articles was first published in 1950. Professor Smith got his information from a great many sources, which will be listed at the close of the article.

When George Winter, an English artist who had moved to Logansport wrote in his journal on July 17, 1837, that he was going to a council at Lake Kee-Waw-nay, he furnished proof that a lake by that name was known to whites and Indians. The fact that all concerned could meet at a designated place is good evidence that the lake had been named at some early date. The name meant "Prairie Chicken", according to the translation made by J. P. Dunn in his True Tales, a name given probably because the lake resembled a bird of that species, or because many prairie chickens were found in the neighborhood. The name was a favorite with the Indians, for there is a Kewanee in Illinois; a Kewaunee in Wisconsin; and Kewauna in Michigan.

Winter added, that the site of the council was at a village of the same name on the shore of the lake. He is careful to state that it wasn't a large settlement, but that its dwellings were scattered among the trees. Among these was the octagonal bark wigwam of Chief Ogamaus and the well-built double log-cabin of Chieftess Massaw. On the floor of her cabin many slept, having come to the powwow without tents or tepees. Of the permanent residents in the village there must have been a considerable number, enough to warrant a graveyard on a ridge nearby, which has yielded numerous bones, beads and other relics. We are sure about the graveyard, for Winter described an Indian burial ceremony which he attended.

To this settlement on the shore of Lake Kee-Waw-nay came the commissioners of the U.S. Government and the representatives of the Potawatomie Indians. Among the latter was a minor chief from the Eel River region by the name of Kee-waw-nay. Although he took no part in the transactions at the lake he was present a month later, August 19, at Crooked Creek near Logansport, at which point the Indians reported the decisions of their tribes and gave their final consent to move from Indiana within a year. At this council, Winter became so well acquainted with Chief Kee-waw-nay that he persuaded the chief to sit for his picture. The result shows the head and shoulders of an Indian, wearing his hair in bangs, revealing a long nose and high cheek bones. He was dressed, not as one might imagine in leather, but in a white collar with a black stock; in a blue jacket and fluffy white shirt. Inasmuch as it hardly seems probable that the chief wore such fancy clothing out in the woods at Crooked Creek, one may hazard that Winter drew the countenance at the council and painted the store-outfit on him at the studio.

Laying aside his brush, Winter gave a verbal picture of Kee-waw-nay, in fact two pictures. In one the chief is "an old man of consideration among his people.. The citizens of Logansport...respected him for his many qualities of an attractive character." In the other he described a drunken savage, drowning his sorrows in firewater.

"Kee-waw-nay came into camp this evening from Logansport completely 'corned' and scarcely able to sit on horseback.. He was so drunk that he seemed to be incapable of lighting his clay pipe, about two inches long. He made signs for me to do it. I made two or three efforts to scrape some of the coal into the bowl of the pipe, but the fire was so powerful that I burnt my hand in the unsuccessful attempt. Taking the pipe from me with a grunt of disapprobation and probably contempt at my seeming fear of being burnt, and without power of standing still a moment in one place, he stooped down, and I thought he would pitch headlong into the fire, dashed his hand & pipe into the embers and lighted it without any indication of suffering. After this was accomplished, he wanted to go to his wigwam, and catching hold of me made signs for me to lead him to it...The old fellow grasped by hand and...by pulling and urging I managed to get him to his wigwam."

To that picture of the drunken chief, Winter added, "I have some fears of getting him to sit for me as he has been drunk ever since I have been here." Fortunately, the artist caught him in a sober moment, with the result that we have the only picture of the chief. It can be added to the other notables who sat before Winter, notables such as Frances Slocum, the white girl who was stolen in childhood from the Wyoming Valley near Wilkes Barre, Pennsylvania, and was discovered in her old age living here in Indiana as a chieftess.

Winter's interest in Kee-waw-nay leads to an inquiry as to the importance of the chief. Had he done anything noteworthy? There is no record of him as a speaker in councils, or as a warrior in battles. He is never mentioned in connection with Little Turtle or Tecumseh, the great leaders of the Indians. Although he was old enough to be among the Potawatomies who fought in the Battle of Tippecanoe in 1811, his name was never included in the stories told in after years by the participants. The Indians spoke about the leadership of White-loon, Stone-eater, and Winnemac; but never mentioned Kee-waw-nay. The most that can be said of him is, the he drew his share of the annuities paid by the United States government in return for land purchased from the Indians. His X-mark, according to the John Tipton Papers, appears as one of the thirty chiefs who acknowledged the receipt of bacon and flour in 1824. Although his residence was somewhere along the Eel River, he signed annuity receipts together with 18 other chiefs from the Wabash and Elkhart Potawatomies. That was in 1828, when the government met its treaty obligations by forwarding to its agents silver dollars, cloth goods, salt, iron, tobacco and steel. Word would be sent ahead setting a well-known distribution point at which the chiefs and their followers could assemble. The distribution point was generally a trading post. There, the Indians exchanged their furs for whiskey. The result was a drunken orgy, such as Winter described in the case of Chief Kee-waw-nay.

Beware of borders, of the bathroom variety

I've heard it said that a family is like a country. If that's the case, you might say mine is struggling with border issues. Yours, mine and ours - where does one begin and the other end?

Many of our squabbles center on a key area of the house: the bathroom.

The bathroom is an essential space often fraught with conflict-laden matters. Whose job is it to put the lid down? Who owns the responsibility for flushing? Who gets to shower first in the morning? Should the toilet paper roll from the top down or bottom up? It's all important stuff.

But not as important as borders. I'm afraid ours have been crossed, leaving some of us standing on the wrong side of right.

You can do two things with a border; you can come in and you can go out. Our problems run both ways.

Let's start with entry.

When you traverse into a country - or bathroom - you quite often bring items with you. This remains legal, as long as you maintain possession of said items. Discarding, littering or otherwise abandoning items meets the definition of a border violation.

At our house, damp towels, music players, specialty lotions, jewelry and dirty clothing are routinely left in the country known as Mom and Dad's bathroom. Crossing the border to transport unwanted goods is illegal and can be defined as smuggling in at least 48 states.

Abandoned items, in my bathroom, wreak havoc with the border patrol (a.k.a. my husband).

That's only the half of it. Exiting a country and/or bathroom also elicits border issues - some of them criminal in nature. This occurs when the border-crosser is unable or unwilling to differentiate between borrowing and stealing.

Here's how I see it: When you are part of a family, some amount of flexibility and sharing is inherent in your contract. My shampoo is your shampoo, my hairspray is your hairspray, my toothpaste is your toothpaste - and so on. (But my toothbrush is my own. Keep that toothbrush!)

A key aspect to borrowing involves an action known as returning. Returning requires bringing the item back to its owner and/or source of origin. A borrowed item must be returned, lest the borrowing becomes stealing.

Real life example: When you abscond with your parent's toothpaste and transport it from inside their bathroom over the border into your bathroom, you are not violating any family treaties or constitutional amendments. Border crossing remains legal in our current state. No law has been broken - yet.

If you fail to make a good faith effort to return the toothpaste (or shampoo, hairbrush, make-up, lotion, hairspray or any other item you removed from the parent's bathroom) and those same parents - one or both - have to brush with bubble gum flavor or use body wash as a shampoo substitute (true life example, unfortunately) then you are in danger of breaching the Family Border Act of 1991, which clearly defines the perpetrators of illegal toothpaste exportation.

Plus, brushing with bubble gum flavor drives the border patrol bankers.

The ins and outs of the bathroom have been plaguing families for generations. It isn't likely that the import and export issues will go away anytime soon - at least not at my house. Don't tell immigration, but a little part of me is glad that. I've grown quite fond of our border patrol.

LEGAL NOTICE.....

NOTICE OF INTENT TO SELL BONDS

Approximately $800,000
KEWANNA-UNION TOWNSHIP PUBLIC LIBRARY LEASING CORPORATION
AD VALOREM PROPERTY TAX FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, SERIES 2010

Upon not less than twenty-four (24) hours notice given by the undersigned Secretary prior to the ninetieth day after this notice is first published, Kewanna-Union Township Public Library Leasing Corporation (the "Corporation") will receive and consider bids for the purchase of the following described Bonds. Any person interested in submitting a bid for the Bonds must furnish in writing to the Kewanna-Union Township Public Library Leasing Corporation c/o H.J. Umbaugh & Associates, Certified Public Accountants, LLP, 8365 Keystone Crossing, Suite 300, Indianapolis, Indiana 46240, (317) 465-1500, (317) 465-1550 (facsimile) or by e-mail to clark@umbaugh.com on or before 2:00 p.m. (Indianapolis Time) September 23, 2010, the person's name, address, and telephone number. Interested persons may also furnish an e-mail address. The undersigned Secretary will notify (or cause to be notified) each person so registered of the date and time bids will be received not less than twenty-four (24) hours before the date and time of sale. The notification shall be made by telephone at the number furnished by such person and also by electronic e-mail, if an e-mail address has been received. It is anticipated that the sale will occur at 11:00 a.m. (Indianapolis Time) on September 28, 2010.

At the time designated for the sale, the Corporation will receive at the offices of H.J. Umbaugh & Associates, Certified Public Accountants, LLP, 8365 Keystone Crossing, Suite 300, Indianapolis, Indiana, and consider bids for the purchase of the following described Bonds: Ad Valorem Property Tax First Mortgage Bonds, Series 2010 (the "Bonds") of the Corporation, an Indiana corporation, in the principal amount of approximately $800,000; Fully registered form; Denomination $5,000 and integral multiples thereof; Originally dated the date of delivery of the Bonds; Bearing interest at a rate or rates to be determined by bidding, payable on July 15, 2011, and semiannually thereafter; Interest payable by check mailed one business day prior to the interest payment date or by wire transfer to depositories on the interest payment date to the person or depository in whose name each Bond is registered with the trustee on the fifteenth day immediately preceding such interest payment date; Maturing or subject to mandatory redemption in accordance with the schedule provided to bidders prior to the sale.

The Corporation reserves the right to adjust the maturity schedule following the sale in order to accomplish the Corporation's financial objectives by reallocating debt service based upon the rates bid by the successful bidder.

The Bonds are redeemable prior to maturity at the option of the Corporation, in whole or in part in such order of maturity as the Corporation shall direct and by lot within maturity, on or after July 15, 2020, at face value.

In the case of any redemption, 30 days' notice will be given by mail to the registered owners of the Bonds to be redeemed, and accrued interest will be paid to the date fixed for redemption. Interest on the Bonds so called for redemption will cease on the redemption date fixed in said notice if funds are available at the place of redemption to redeem the Bonds so called on the date fixed in said notice, or thereafter when presented for payment.

A bid may designate that a given maturity or maturities shall constitute a term bond, and the semi-annual amounts set forth above shall constitute the mandatory sinking fund redemption requirements for such term bond or bonds. For purposes of computing net interest cost, the mandatory redemption amounts shall be treated as maturing on the dates set forth in the schedule set forth above.

Each bid must be for all of the Bonds and must state the rate of interest which each maturity of the Bonds is to bear, stated in multiples of 1/8th or 1/20th of 1%. The maximum interest rate on the Bonds shall not exceed 7.00% per annum. All Bonds maturing on the same date shall bear the same rate, and the rate of interest bid for each maturity must be equal to or greater than the rate bid on the immediately preceding maturity. Bids shall set out the total amount of interest payable over the term of the Bonds and the net interest cost on the Bonds covered by the bid. No bid for less than 99% of the face value of the Bonds will be considered. The Bonds will be awarded to the highest qualified bidder who has submitted a bid in accordance herewith. The highest bidder will be the one who offers the lowest net interest cost to the Corporation, to be determined by computing the total interest on all of the Bonds to their maturities based upon the schedule provided by the Corporation prior to the sale and deducting therefrom the premium bid, if any, and adding thereto the discount bid, if any. No conditional bids will be considered. The right is reserved to reject any and all bids. If an acceptable bid is not received for the Bonds on the date of sale hereinbefore fixed, the sale may be continued from day to day thereafter, during which time no bids for less than the highest bid received at the time of the advertised sale will be considered.

Each bid must be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed to the Corporation and marked on the outside "Bid for Ad Valorem Property Tax First Mortgage Bonds, Series 2010". A good faith deposit ("Deposit") in the form of cash or certified or cashier's check in the amount of $8,000 payable to the order of the Corporation is required to be submitted by the successful purchaser (the "Purchaser") not later than 3:30 p.m. (EDT) on the next business day following the award. If such Deposit is not received by that time, the Corporation may reject the bid. No interest on the Deposit will accrue to the Purchaser. The Deposit will be applied to the purchase price of the Bonds. In the event the Purchaser fails to honor its accepted bid, the Deposit will be retained by the Corporation as liquidated damages.

The successful bidder shall make payment to the bank selected as trustee (the "Trustee") for the Bonds and accept delivery thereof from the Trustee within five days after being notified that the Bonds are ready for delivery, at such place in the City of Indianapolis, Indiana, as the successful bidder may designate. The Bonds will be ready for delivery within 45 days after the date of sale. If the Corporation fails to have the Bonds ready for delivery prior to the close of banking hours on the forty-fifth day after the date of sale, the bidder may secure the release of his bid upon request in writing, filed with the Corporation. The successful bidder is expected to apply to a securities depository registered with the SEC to make such Bonds depository-eligible. At the time of delivery of the Bonds to the successful bidder, the bidder will be required to certify to the Corporation the initial reoffering price to the public of a substantial amount of each maturity of the Bonds.

It is anticipated that CUSIP identification numbers will be printed on the Bonds, but neither the failure to print such numbers on any Bond nor any error with respect thereto shall constitute cause for failure or refusal by the successful bidder therefor to accept delivery of and pay for the Bonds in accordance with the terms of its proposal. No CUSIP identification number shall be deemed to be a part of any Bond or a part of the contract evidenced thereby and no liability shall hereafter attach to the Corporation or any of its officers or agents because of or on account of such numbers. All expenses in relation to the printing of CUSIP identification numbers on the Bonds shall be paid for by the Corporation; provided, however, that the CUSIP Service Bureau charge for the assignment of said numbers shall be the responsibility of and shall be paid for by the Purchaser. The Purchaser will also be responsible for any other fees or expenses it incurs in connection with the resale of the Bonds.

The approving opinion of Ice Miller LLP, bond counsel of Indianapolis, Indiana, together with a transcript of the proceedings relating to the issuance of the Bonds and closing papers in the usual form showing no litigation questioning the validity of the Bonds, will be furnished to the successful bidder at the expense of the Corporation.

The Corporation was organized for the purpose of renovating and improving the Kewanna-Union Township Public Library (the "Library") and leasing such building to the Library. All action has been taken and the Bonds are issued in compliance with the provisions of I.C. 36-1-10. The Bonds will be secured by a trust indenture to the Trustee and will be subject to the terms and provisions of said indenture. The Bonds have been designated as qualified tax-exempt obligations for purposes of Section 285(b)(3). The Corporation will certify as to facts to support the conclusion that the Bonds do not constitute private activity bonds as defined in Section 141 of the Internal Revenue Code.

The property to be covered by the indenture has been leased for a period of 22 years to the Library. The lease provides for rental during renovation in the amount of $37,500 payable on June 30, 2011. Thereafter the lease provides for payments in the amount of $75,000, plus the payment of all taxes and assessments, which annual rental is payable semiannually on June 30 and December 31 in each year, commencing with the completion of the project or December 31, 2011, whichever is later.

After the sale of all Bonds issued by the Corporation to pay for the cost of said building, including the acquisition of the sites thereof and other expenses incidental thereto, the annual rental shall be reduced to an amount equal to the multiple of $1,000 next highest to the highest sum of principal and interest due on such Bonds in each twelve month period ending on January 15 plus $3,000, payable in equal semiannual installments. All bidders shall be deemed to be advised as to the provisions of the above-mentioned trust indenture and lease and the provisions of the aforesaid I.C. 36-1-10.

The Bonds constitute an indebtedness only of the Corporation, payable in accordance with the terms of the above-mentioned indenture. Interest on the Bonds is exempt from all income taxation in Indiana. In the opinion of bond counsel, under the existing federal statutes, decisions, regulations and rulings, the interest on the Bonds is excludable from gross income for purposes of federal income taxation.

The Corporation has prepared an offering circular relating to the Bonds which it has deemed to be a nearly final offering circular. Within seven (7) business days of the sale, the Corporation will provide the successful bidder with 16 copies of the final offering circular at the Corporation's expense. Additional copies, at the purchaser's expense, must be requested within five (5) business days of the sale. Inquiries concerning matters contained in the nearly final offering circular must be made and pricing and other information necessary to complete the final Offering Circular must be submitted by the successful bidder within two (2) business days following the sale to be included in the final offering circular.

Further information relative to said issue and a copy of the nearly final offering circular may be obtained upon application to H.J. Umbaugh & Associates, Certified Public Accountants, LLP, 8365 Keystone Crossing, Suite 300, Indianapolis, Indiana 46240, financial advisor to the Library; Gregory Heller, Heller Law Office, 320 East Eighth Street, Rochester, Indiana 46975, attorney for the Library; or Nick Hughes, Director, Kewanna-Union Township Public Library, 210 East Main Street, Kewanna, Indiana 46939. If bids are submitted by mail, they should be addressed to the Corporation, attention of Nick Hughes, Director, Kewanna-Union Township Public Library, 210 East Main Street, Kewanna, Indiana 46939.

Dated this 9th day of September, 2010.

Kewanna/Union Twp. Library News...

I am going to keep this week's memorandum short and sweet. We have more new books and DVD's in, including the original Star Wars trilogy and The Good, The Bad, and The Ugly. These items are first come, first serve, but as always, please remember to return everything in a timely manner so the next person can have a shot at them.

We here want to remind you that the weekend of the Kewanna Fall Festival, we are having our first book sale. All books are 50 cents each, or 12 for $5. We are also running an amnesty program that weekend. Bring back all your late and overdue items and we will not charge you any fines. Basically, it is a great way to wipe the slate clean.

Speaking of the book sale, we are still looking for volunteers to work our up and coming book sale. If you are willing to help out your local library, come in and talk to us or give us a call at 653-2011.

That is all from here. We are looking forward to seeing you come in.

Letter To The Editor...

Dear Editor,

A new school year means new opportunities for teenagers to make a fresh start and plan for a bright future. Parents can use this time to talk with teens about making smart decisions, including those that impact their lives beyond the classroom. According to the 2009 GfK Roper Youth Report, 68 percent of 8 to 17 year-olds cite their parents as the No. 1 influence on whether they drink alcohol. Though peer pressure can be a difficult time for teens, as a parent, your involvement has a significant impact on your child's decisions.

That's why Tippecanoe Beverages offers Family Talk About Drinking, a free guide designed to encourage open and honest communication between parents and children to help prevent underage drinking.

Strong educational programs such as these, paired with effective law enforcement, are essential to making progress in the fight against underage drinking and teen drunk driving. According to a survey conducted by the Center for Disease Control and Prevention, the percentage of high school students who drank in the past month has declined 18 percent to a record-low level since tracking began in 1991. Here in Indiana, 84 percent of 12 to 17 year-olds do not drink, according to the 2008 National Survey on Drug Use and Health.

It's our responsibility to help guide youth in making smart decisions about alcohol to ensure the progress persists. For a free parent guide, go to www.familytalkonline.com. Yours truly, Frederick K. Zahrt, President Tippecanoe Beverages

Tolerance is one of the ways America has distinguished itself from other nations of the world.

Apparently those days are over. The entire hubbub about the Mosque in NY makes me wonder what happened to our tolerance of various religious groups.

The Mosque is not being built on ground zero in NY. It is few blocks away.

Why keep putting this misinformation out if it is not to excite anger and hate.

Many Christians have a tradition of doing this. Christians wore the white sheets and hoods and carried their Bibles of years ago. A significant part of Indiana history.

Where are the moderate Christians to stand up for "religious freedom, tolerance and love?" Apparently they are asleep at the switch, too bad for America.

What is the message to 1.5 billion people? I heard today on the radio some say they are a "cult," some cult. How are we to find understanding between the religious groups if we only speak of "hate" and "fear?"

Many have asked where are the moderate Muslims to speak up about the radical individuals and groups that have done these terrible acts against the citizens of the world. Most of the harm has been done to fellow Muslims. Sounds so very much like Ireland, Christian against Christian.

But let the moderate Muslims speak up and it is not enough. Don't let any of the Muslim community speak of love, peace and tolerance. Catch 22, damn if you do and damned if you don't.

I have read the Koran and I have read the Bible. I can make the Bible say hateful things as it can be done with the Koran. Take things out of context, work every time. Find the most awful statements in both books and promote them as the whole and you can raise the anger and yes, even hate from the very group that shouts "love" to the world. Some love.

I do not live in NY. I have visited NY. NY is a symbol in the world of a pluralistic city of great size. I agree with the Mayor. Let us show our best self to the world.

Imam Rauf has been sent overseas to the win the hearts and minds of the Muslims by the Bush administration and now the current administration. Apparently many months into a new administration some how makes doing the same a crime of some kind. Give me a break.

I request if a Christian church would be allowed to be built near the Oklahoma City bombing site. If I remember correctly, Timothy McVeigh was a Catholic.

Wake up America. What kind of shinning city on the hill have we become?

Prostate Cancer Awareness Month

Prostate cancer is one of the most common types of cancer in men. Prostate cancer usually grows slowly initially remains confined to the prostate gland, where it may not cause serious harm.

While some types of prostate cancer grow slowly and may need minimal or no treatment, other types are aggressive and can spread quickly. Prostate cancer that is detected early—when it's still confined to the prostate gland—has a better chance of successful treatment.

Screening

Most prostate cancer is discovered through routine screening. Still, testing men who have no prostate symptoms for prostate cancer is controversial. Medical organizations don't agree on the issue of screening and whether it has benefits.

Some medical organizations recommend men to begin prostate cancer screening in their 50s, or sooner for men who have risk factors or prostate cancer. Other organizations advise against screening. Discuss your particular situation and the benefits and risks of screening with your doctor. Whether you can decide together prostate cancer screening is appropriate for you.

Prostate Screening Tests

During a digital rectal exam (DRE) your doctor inserts a gloved, lubricated finger into your rectum to examine your prostate, which is adjacent to the rectum. If your doctor finds any abnormalities in the texture, shape or size of your gland, you may need more tests.

A blood sample is drawn from a vein in your arm and analyzed for prostate-specific antigen (PSA) test, a substance that's naturally produced by your prostate gland. It's normal for a small amount of PSA to enter your bloodstream. However, if a higher than normal level is found it may be an indication of prostate infection, enlargement or cancer.

Town & Country CHATTER...

By: Julie Brown Ph.: (574) 653-2451

Renee Colley was in Howell, Michigan the first few days of the week. She was a guest of her friend, Joan Falk. Monday, Aug. 30, they traveled to the Frederick Meier's Gardens near Grand Rapids. They had a delightful time attending the Chihuly exhibit.

Helen Whiteman was in Winamac Monday evening to attend two ball games. The first game was the 8th grade boys' football game. Her great-grandson, Jeff Nies Jr., was among the players. Later, she attended the high school girls' volleyball game in which her great-granddaughter, Whitney Hook, was playing.

Tom and Barb LaFollette traveled to Kokomo Tuesday, Aug. 31. They met their friend, Tom Miller, at Martino's Italian Villa restaurant for a visit over lunch. While there, they were also able to visit with Mike and Angie Martino.

Joan Falk and Renee Colley were in Frankenmuth, Michigan Tuesday. They enjoyed the day shopping and walking through Bronner's Christmas Store.

Jerry and Kay Brown were in Rochester Tuesday evening. They had a fun time attending the junior varsity girls' volleyball game against Lewis Cass. Their granddaughter, Kaelee Smith, is a player for Rochester, which won the match.

Ruth Cogdill welcomed her son, Tim Cogdill of Macy Wednesday, Sept. 1. They made a trip uptown to run errands, drop off some recyclables, visit the IOOF cemetery and stop at the Kwik Mart for some milk. Tim and Ruth had heard from Ruth's daughter, Jane Teeter. Jane and her husband, Jim, made it safely to Austin, Texas. Jane had orientation last week and starts her new job this week.

Don and Pauline Scales had a couple of callers Wednesday. Coming over for a visit were their daughter and son-in-law, Phyllis and Gene Koontz of Rochester.

Barb and Tom LaFollette attended the funeral of Ron Seller of Silver Lake Wednesday. Ron had been Barb's boss at Delco in Kokomo.

Renee Colley and Mary Brockey were in Plymouth Friday, Sept. 3. They enjoyed attending the opening day of the Blueberry Festival at Centennial Park.

Ruth Cogdill had surprise visitors Friday. Stopping by for a wonderful visit were her grandson, Shade Cogdill; his mother, Josie Horon of Medaryville; and Josie's father, Richard Arrasmith of Star City. They enjoyed a wonderful evening of catching up on all the news. It had been one- and- a-half years since Ruth had seen them.

Barb and Jon Gast had company Friday. Joining them in the evening for a visit and supper were Barb's brother, Don Carr, and sister, Betty Leazenby.

Kevin and Monica Whiteman of Pulaski had holiday houseguests over the weekend. Staying with them for a few days were their son, Rodney Whiteman of Indiana University in Bloomington; their daughter and granddaughters, Angie Whiteman, Jaden and Ella of Indianapolis; and Rodney's friend, Irina. (Rodney is working on his doctorate in music education at I.U.)

Helen Miller had several visitors Saturday, Sept. 4. Arriving early to take care of some yard work and make cider were her granddaughter, Nancy Gibson of Kokomo and her granddaughter and family, Suzanne and Mike Crump, Katie and Tyler of Muncie. Later, they were joined by Helen's daughter (Nancy and Suzanne's mother) Judy Scott of Frankfort. Judy remained overnight as Helen's houseguest.

Jon Gast and Angela had a fun time Saturday afternoon. They attended the wedding celebration held in honor of Stephanie Baldwin and her fiancé, Kurt. The event was held at the home of Stephanie's sister, Laurie Paulik.

Renee Colley had a busy day Saturday. Early in the day, she and Dick Fedorchak traveled to Streamwood, Illinois to attend a 50th birthday party in honor of Kristy Cornell. Upon her return to Lake Bruce, she was joined by her son and grandchildren, Eric Colley, Nathan and Meghan of Bartlett, Illinois for a holiday weekend visit.

Helen Whiteman was among those who enjoyed attending Tim and Terry Troutman's annual Labor Day fish fry Saturday.

Barb and Jon Gast and Angela had company Saturday. Stopping in for a chat were Randy and Steve Neidig of Bourbon.

Ruth Cogdill had a working visitor Sunday, Sept. 5. Coming for a chat and helping with some household chores was her granddaughter, Michele Cogdill of Macy.

Ann Zartman enjoyed spending Sunday with several members of her family. Joining her for a visit over dinner were her daughter and son-in-law, Jane and Rich Green; her daughter, Shirley Zartman; and her great-grandson, Jacob Green.

Tom and Linda Garner had houseguests Sunday. Joining them for a visit and dinner in honor of Linda's birthday and Labor Day were their children and their families: Amanda Wassermann, Zachary and Mackenzie of Valparaiso; Missy and Steve Young, Trey, Brianna, Kaylyn and Stevanna of Twelve Mile; and T.J. and Ashley Garner.

Leonard and Nancy Evers enjoyed a pleasant Sunday afternoon. Joining them for lunch and a visit were over ten members of their family.

Helen Whiteman traveled to Pulaski Sunday. She had a nice time attending a birthday party held in honor of her great-granddaughters, Jaden and Ella Whiteman. The event was hosted by Monica and Kevin Whiteman.
