Smoke Testing & Sewer Survey TOWN OF KEWANNA

For the next few weeks, inspection crews will be conducting a physical survey of the Kewanna sanitary sewer system. This study will involve the opening and entering of manholes in the streets and easements. An important task of the survey will be the "SMOKE TESTING" of sewer lines to locate breaks and defects in the sewer system. The smoke that you see coming from the vent stacks on houses or holes in the ground is NON-TOXIC, HARMLESS, HAS NO ODOR AND CREATES NO FIRE HAZARD. The smoke plumbing or dried up drain traps. If this occurs, you should consult your licensed plumber. In any event, if the harmless smoke can enter through faulty plumbing, the potential exists for dangerous sewer gases to enter your home. Should smoke enter your home, you may contact a member of the smoke testing crew working in the area and he will be pleased to check with you as to where and why the smoke has entered your home. If you have any seldom used drains, please pour water in the drain to fill the trap, which will prevent sewer gases or odors from entering the building.

Some sewer lines and manholes are located on the backyard easement property lines. Whenever these lines require investigation, members of the inspection crews will need access to the easements for the sewer lines and manholes. Homeowners do not need to be home and the workmen will not need to enter your house.

Photographs are to be made of leaks occurring in the system. We anticipate the smoke testing will require approximately one (1) week in your area. Your cooperation will be appreciated. The information gained from this study will be used to improve your sewer service and may reduce the eventual cost to taxpayers.

Letter To The Editor

My family and I recently came home to Kewanna for a weekend visit with extended family that remains in the area. We count the days between trips to Kewanna because it was at one point, and will always be, home to us. That's why with a heavy heart I feel I am forced to write this letter. There seems to be a running theme, at least in the small part of town we were in, that involves animals which are neglected. We talked about the problem all weekend long amongst ourselves and with residents of our favorite town on Earth. None of us could come up with a reason for the purpose of having a dog, or two or three, that are tied up in the back yard, never walked, never played with and never brought inside to be with the family. What is the purpose of having a dog if it's going to be isolated from you and your family? Aside from this sad aspect of the dog's existence, the majority of them are complete nuisances to the neighbors who live nearby and are forced to listen to them barking all day and all night. I write this letter on behalf of our family who remain in Kewanna and suffer through this unfortunate situation in silence. Please be a responsible citizen, respect your neighbors and more importantly, love your dogs. If you find that you can't or are unable, maybe it would be best for everyone involved to find the dog, or dogs, a new and loving home.

The Reopening of the First Baptist "on the Main"

This past Sunday was a wonderful day. The weather was perfect for kick-off day at First Baptist on the Main right here in Kewanna. "Praise the Lord!" At 10:00 a.m. the doors were opened to the public once again. Saturday afternoon was busy at the Fall Festival where we had the privilege of personally meeting residents, handing out around 150 bottles of water and 6 pounds of candy – compliments of First Baptist on the Main. The church was also blessed with the opportunity of giving away 100 old-fashioned covered wagon rides from Weekly's Ponderosa to parents and children of Kewanna.

The friendly hospitality of the Kewanna residents was an encouragement. Sunday morning, 17 loving and caring individuals came to show their support. It was evident that the community enthusiastically supports the ongoing ministry of the church. I would like to take a moment here to invite everyone to be part of the kick-off month! If you do not currently have a church that you call home and are looking to find a strong, loving church home where the Gospel will be preached, we encourage you to come and visit. First Baptist is a place where you will grow spiritually while helping others. First Baptist will also be a safe place for your children and teenagers to have fun, fellowship, and grow in the strength of the Lord.

This Sunday at 10:00 a.m., we will meet again. I will do my best to have a cup of Joe or juice accompanied by a donut with your name on it! There will be special music, and I will open God's Word for a brief message followed by fellowship. I look forward to meeting you personally. Should you need to contact us, call 1-800-698-9591 and ask for Demetrius.

Your humble servant,
Demetrius Anagnostou

Home Escape Planning and Practice

Letter to the Editor

If a fire broke out in your home, do you know how much time you would have to get out? Unfortunately, no one knows for sure. While most people feel safe in their homes, the reality is that home fires are much more common than you might think. There were nearly 4,300 home fires reported in 2007 in Indiana, resulting in approximately 100 Hoosier deaths.

In a perfect world, we would be able to prevent all home fires. In reality, we can be vigilant, but there are no guarantees. Any emergency can affect one's ability to think clearly, but during a fire, smoke and other physical factors can literally inhibit your ability to react.

The theme for Fire Prevention Week (October 5-11, 2008) this year is "Prevent Home Fires," and focuses on preventing the leading causes of home fires – cooking, heating and electrical equipment, and smoking materials.

While the statistics are daunting, most home fires are easily preventable when we narrow our focus and take personal steps to increase our safety. Working smoke alarms and fire escape planning and practice are integral to keeping your family safe, but another element that you may want to add to your safety system is home fire sprinklers. Because they react so quickly, fire sprinkler systems can dramatically reduce the heat, flames and smoke produced in a fire. When sprinklers are present, the chances of dying are reduced by more than one-half and the average property loss per fire is cut by one-third to two-thirds, compared to fires where sprinklers are not present.

There are also a number of simple steps that you can put into action to keep your home safe from fire:

- Cooking: Stay in the kitchen when you are frying, grilling, or broiling food. If you leave the kitchen for even a short period of time, turn off the stove.
- Heating: Keep all things that can burn, such as paper, bedding or furniture, at least 3 feet away from heating equipment.
- Electrical: Replace cracked and damaged electrical cords; use extension cords for temporary wiring only. Consider having additional circuits or receptacles added by a qualified electrician.
- Smoking: if you smoke, smoke outside; wherever you smoke, use deep, sturdy ashtrays.

Preparing for the unexpected is difficult, but when it comes to home fires, minutes, even seconds, can mean the difference between life and death. That's why having a well-practiced fire escape plan is vital to the safety of your family.

To get you and your family started in planning a home fire escape, follow these tips:

- Install a smoke alarm on every level of your home and have one inside each bedroom and outside of each sleeping area. For the best protection, interconnect alarms so that when one sounds, they all sound.
- Test smoke alarms at least once a month.
- Replace batteries in smoke alarms at least twice a year. Plan on replacing the batteries when you change your clocks for daylight saving time.
- Develop a fire escape plan that identifies two ways out of each room and a family meeting place outside. Once outside, never return inside the house.
- Make sure your plan allows for any specific needs in your household. If everyone knows what to do, everyone can get out quickly.
- Practice using the plan at least twice a year.
- Some children and adults may not awaken to the sound of the smoke alarm. Designate someone to wake up each person in the household.
- Remove any items that may block doors or windows in your home. Make sure when arranging furniture and other items that you're not blocking doors or windows. They could keep you from escaping in the event of a home fire.
- Be sure to remove a pile of toys or other items in front of a doorway that can block your escape route and be a threat to the safety of you and your family.

We want to encourage all Hoosiers to be prepared. Currently, only 35% of U.S. households have a well-practiced plan in place for escaping home fires. The Indiana Department of Homeland Security and the State Fire Marshal encourage families to make a fire escape plan and practice it. Fire is unpredictable, but preparation in the form of a well-practiced escape plan can help keep you and your family safe, and potentially save lives.

Sincerely,
James Greeson
State Fire Marshal

Breast cancer is the most common type of non-skin cancer in women. In 2008, an estimated 182,000 new cases of invasive breast cancer will be diagnosed in women in the United States. Holiday mailing

While the first signs of autumn may yet to appear, it's not too early to start thinking about holiday cards, letters and packages destined for service members and their families stationed in faraway lands. According to the Kewanna post office, the first deadline for the 2008 holiday season is about 60 days away.

Thursday, November 13, is the deadline for sending holiday packages to troops stationed overseas using parcel post to all Air/Army Post Office (APO) or Fleet Post Office (FPO) ZIP codes.

"The U.S. Postal Service is encouraging early deadlines," said Kewanna officer-in-charge Karen Troxell, "to ensure packages reach their destination in time for the holidays."

All military mail, regardless of destination, is sent by domestic mail rate. International rates do not apply to military mail delivery.

One way Hoosiers can confirm delivery is by using Delivery Confirmation, available for almost all military destinations outside the U.S. Delivery Confirmation provides customers with the date, ZIP code and time the package was delivered. This information can be accessed online at www.usps.com.

"Mail is one of the greatest morale boosters we can give our soldiers, sailors, marines, airmen and coast guardsmen during the holidays," said Troxell. "When they see packages or letters waiting for them it brings them that much closer to family and the comforts of home."

The U.S. Postal Service also has a Military Care Kit to make it easier for military families and friends to send packages to servicemen and women and their families stationed overseas. Each free kit contains three flat rate boxes, two cube boxes, nine address labels, and 16 customs forms. The kit may be ordered by calling the USPS Expedited Package Supply Center at 1-800-610-8734.

"Another good deal," said Troxell, "is the Priority Mail Large Flat-Rate Box introduced earlier this year. It offers a $2 discount to APO/FPO destinations and ships for $10.95. Go online, used Click-n-Ship and the price drops to $10.50."

The U.S. Postal Service has also made celebrating the holidays more personal by making it as fun and easy as baking holiday cookies.

"With a little creativity, customers can create their own holiday cards and customized postage on first-class mail, Priority Mail and Express Mail," the Kewanna officer-in-charge added. "It's all available at www.usps.com."

All packages and mail must be addressed to individual service members, as required by U.S. Department of Defense regulations. "We cannot accept any mail addressed to 'any service member'" Troxell added.

The U.S. Postal Service places APO/FPO mail on special charter flights, commercial airlines and military service aircraft to reach armed services members overseas as quickly as possible.

The News In Brief

An accident involving a mo-ped, two dump trucks and a school bus on U.S. 24 west of Logansport Friday afternoon took the lives of all four students on board the bus. Dead are Trevor Ingram, Tyler Geiger, Kale Seabolt and Lauren Melin. The bus driver was Lifelined to a Fort Wayne hospital. An obituary for Trevor Ingram can be found elsewhere in this issue of The Observer.

A regional transit board voted Friday in favor of a $160 million plan to establish a 19-mile commuter rail line between downtown Indianapolis and the northern suburb of Noblesville.

Automakers gained $25 billion in taxpayer-subsidized loans and oil companies won elimination of a long-standing ban on drilling off the Atlantic and Pacific coasts when the Senate passed a huge spending bill 78-12 Saturday. The $634 billion measure was sent to President Bush who was expected to sign it.

Caston FCCLA raising funds for breast cancer research

Sarah McManus
FCCLA Reporter

As most people would think, October 3 is just as any other day; at Caston School Corporation, it is a day to raise money in a "denim" way.

Many women know October is Breast Cancer Awareness Month. An estimated 40,460 women and 450 men will die from breast cancer this year.

Caston FCCLA is assisting the fight against breast cancer with a fundraiser called National Denim Day, which has already raised $70 million for breast cancer research.

Employees will be able to wear jeans on October 3 in exchange for a $5 donation. The proceeds will go to the Women's Cancer Programs of the Entertainment Industry Foundation. This money is used for breast cancer research.

If you would like to donate money for this cause, please drop your donation off at the high school office, or send it to Vicki Wagoner, FCCLA Sponsor, P.O. Box 128, Fulton, IN 46931.
