Concert at First Baptist

Nathan Shipley Pierpont of Kalamazoo, Michigan, will appear in concert Friday evening, September 23, at 7 p.m. at the First Baptist Church, 414 E. Main St., Kewanna. Light refreshments will be served following the concert. Admission is free but a love offering will be taken.

Nathan, a songwriter, singer and pianist, began his concert ministry in 1994. He currently serves as Pastor of Worship and the Arts at Northeastern Baptist Church. His wife, Jennifer, along with their children, Elisabeth, Jonathan, Levi and Grace, travel with him.

Nathan's music is a blend of modern and traditional styles that will appeal to young and old. His music is loud enough to hear and quiet enough to enjoy as well as wholesome, positive and hopeful.

Pierpont's song writing and singing are from the heart. He has written one song that features his son while it honors his own grandpa. Another reflects on the ministry of his father's life of service to others. His CD carries a song written to his wife and one written gratefully, believe it or not, to his in-laws. There are songs that celebrate and others that offer encouragement. All will touch your heart and cause you to want to walk closer with the Lord.

Trail of Courage to Honor Shipshewano Family

The Trail of Courage Living History Festival honors a different Potawatomi family every year in it presentations of frontier Indiana. This years' event will be Sept. 17 and 18 at the Fulton County Historical Society grounds north of Rochester. Admission is $6 for adults, $2 for children 6-11, and free for age five and under. The grounds are handicapped accessible.

This year the festival will focus on Chief Shipshewano who went to Kansas on the Trail of Death in 1838. That means he was among the marchers who walked down Rochester's Main Street on Sept. 5, 1838, escorted by volunteer militia under the command of General John Tipton of Logansport. Tipton's power expired at the state line and he came home, leaving William Polke of Rochester in charge. Father Benjamin Petit, who had been a missionary to the Potawatomi in northern Indiana and southern Michigan caught up with the emigrating party of 859 Indians at Danville, Illinois, and accompanied them, also. So many died on the way that it is called the Trail of Death.

Chief Shipshewano did not like Kansas and came back to Indiana in 1839. He died in 1841 and the town of Shipshewana was named after him. Today his descendants use the surname of Wano in Oklahoma and Kansas, while Shipshe is used in Indiana. No one knows why. And, nobody knows way they changed the spelling from the final "o" to "a".

Chief Shipshewano's descendants include Rudy Vallejo and his sister Celerina "Sally" Masquat Riley of East Moline, Illinois, who will be the head dancers for the Indian dances from 2:00 to 3:30 p.m. both days. Accompanying them will be three of Sally's children and a niece.

The Trail of Courage is produced by the Fulton County Historical Society. The life of the American Indians and the settlers who lived in Fulton County and Northern Indiana in the early 1800's is depicted with rendezvous events, stage programs and the historic canoe landing and fur trade skit on the Tippecanoe River. Historic camps include French and Indiana War, Voyageur's canoes, Revolutionary War, War of 1812, Plains Indian tepees, Woodland Indian wigwams and Chippeway Village, the first white settlement in Fulton County (1832).

Postal Folder Honors Eagle Dancer

A commemorative postal folder and cancellation at the Chippeway Village post office will tell the history of Eagle Dancer, Rudy Vallejo, a member of the Kansas Kickapoo Nation and a descendant of Chief Shipshewano. He is head man dancer for this years' Trail of Courage, Sept. 17 and 18. The drawing on the folder was made from his picture by Annette Hartman Wise of Akron and the wording was authored by Shirley Willard.

The cancellation will be available on a commemorative folder that sells for $1. The cancellation is free on postcards that can be purchased at the Chippeway Village post office. It is also available free on any other pieces of mail that you wish to mail during the festival.

This is a real post office, built in 1989 from old barn boards, and visitors can actually mail letters and postcards here. Special post cards will be for sale that show local history such as Chief Aubbeenaubbee, Chief Kee-waunay, Chief White Eagle, the Round Barn Museum, etc.

LOCALS

A surprise, belated birthday party was held Thursday, Sept. 8, at the Harvest Time Restaurant in Logansport for former Kewanna resident, Norma Robbins. Helping her celebrate the occasion were Bill and Mary Shidler, Joe and Denise Shidler, Vance and Pattie Armstrong, Dewey and Jane Reams, Jim and Arvella Sutton, Phyllis Lemmon and Ann Becker.

Wilma Wilson had a wonderful time Saturday evening attending the wedding of her grandson. Nathan Graham, and Emily Holcomb. (Nathan is the son of Jack and Judy Graham of Lucerne and Emily is the daughter of Ron and Janet Holcomb.) Among the other immediate members of their family in attendance were Nathan's siblings, Kurt and Emily, and Nathan's aunt, Nicki Wilson. The beautiful ceremony was performed at Lake Manitou's Butterfly Garden.

John Agnew was the guest of honor at a cookout Saturday evening. Helping him celebrate his birthday were Greg Agnew of Warner Robins, Georiga; John Agnew Jr., Jarrod and Amy Agnew, Zachary and Alexis, and Jeffrey Agnew, Shayna and Kayleena, all of Rochester; and Jeremy Agnew and Angie Raynard of Westfield. Later in the evening they all enjoyed cake and ice cream.

Renee Colley served cake and ice cream to friends and neighbors Saturday in honor of Bruce Colley, who was celebrating his 62nd birthday. Helping him celebrate the occasion were Hugh and Scrubby Tennent (who baked the delicious cake), Tom and Salli Haak, Gil and Joyce Vallis and Christopher Pine, who brought his friend Hillary.

Marie Smitley and Beverly Perry were busy Sunday, Sept. 11. They first attended church services together at the Pleasant Hill United Methodist Church. Then it was on to Logansport for lunch. In the afternoon, they drove to Bringhurst to attend the wedding anniversary party held in honor of Marie's niece and her husband, Mary and Bill McCarty. The McCartys were joined in marriage by Marie's husband, Keith, fifty years ago.

Jo and Elsie Master spent Sunday afternoon with Kathryn and John Huntington at Peabody Retirement Home in North Manchester. John is doing as well as can be expected and Kathryn said to tell everyone "hello" for her.

Randy and Lena Burton of Juneau, Alaska, were recent guests of Jo and Elsie Master. Randy is a nephew of Harlan Burton, who was the ball turret gunner with Jo on the B-17 "Fireball". Harlan was killed when the plane went down. Randy has done intensive research on the war concerning this crew. The day they went down, they were flying "Fireball", not their "Screwball". They all agree that if they had been flying "Screwball" they would have not gone done. John Tombaugh of Rochester was also a guest. He is writing a book on World War II and wanted to gather and compare information.

Tom and Linda Garner had company Sunday. Coming down in the afternoon for a family visit were their daughter and grandson, Amanda Wassermann and Zack of Valparaiso. Linda, Amanda and Zack then went on down to Grass Creek for a visit with Linda's parents, Don and Pauline Scales.

Joyce Bangel was the guest of honor at a small family gathering Sunday. The occasion was in celebration of her birthday and hosted by her grandmother, Elsie Scheffer of Pulaski. Helping them mark the event with dinner and lots of birthday trimmings were Joyce's parents, Jean and Louis Bangel of Winamac; her grandparents, Earl and Mary Bangel; her aunts, Cheryl Scheffer and Linda Bangel; her uncle, Chuck Scheffer; and Ann Wooten.

Helen Whiteman had an enjoyable Sunday. She accompanied American Dream Tours of Plymouth to a musical being performed in Indianapolis.

Jerry and Kay Brown were in Rochester Sunday evening. They enjoyed a visit with their daughter and her family, Angie and Tom Smith, Leighnee and Kaelee. They also had the opportunity for some quality time with Angie and Tom's grandsons, Aidan and William.

Don and Pauline Scales had a couple of callers Sunday. Coming by late in the day for a visit were their daughter and great-granddaughter, Phyllis Koontz of Rochester and Ally Wiese.

Virginia Agnew, John Agnew, Jr., Larry and Elaine Rans and Joe and Joan Rans were in Valparaiso Sunday and Monday where they attended services for David Rans, a nephew to Virginia, Larry and Joe. David was the son of Raymond "Pete" Rans, who preceded him in death. David had a massive stroke Labor Day and passed away on Tuesday. He leaves behind his wife Helen, daughter Traci, son Brandon, mother, step-mother, brother, step-sister and step-brother. David was retired after serving 25 years on the Valparaiso Fire Department.

Letters To The Editor...

4498 N 450 E
Rochester, IN 46975
August 29, 2005

Dear Editor,

We just wanted to take the time to thank all of those that have been involved with Fulton County Special Olympics this year. We have participated in several activities this year. We played basketball in Oct. Nov. and Dec.; bowled in Nov. Dec., April, May and June; and ran track and field in April, May and June. We could not have done all this without the help of some good people. There was Jeff Werner, Ashley DuBois, David and Patty Pontious, Jillian Everett Tim Smith, Rachel Calloway, Kayci Cunningham, John and Lorna Mollencupp, Fred Bauman, Crystal Borkowski, Kathy Gilliland, Kay Ballinger, Becky Mow, Kelly Bush and Scott Tribby. There was also Pam Stokes, Wendy Clark, Artie Shidler, Kyle Calhoun, Amanda Patton, Elizabeth Smith, Travis Gentry, Manitou Training Center, Quick's Lanes, Burger King, Riddle and Columbia Schools, Kewanna Observer and Rochester Sentinel. Also a big thank you to those of you that have helped in our money making projects, such as the Basket Bingo and Kroger gift certificate sales and those of you that sent a donation to Fulton County Special Olympics. The athletes have had a good year thanks to all of you for helping in anyway.

Fulton County Co-Coordinators,
Ann Bauman

Town & Country CHATTER...

By: Julie Brown (574) 653-2451

Sunday evening, Sept. 4, Ruth Cogdill had surprise visitors. Her granddaughter, Michelle Cogdill, and Michelle's fiancé, Derek Sheline, stopped in to say hi. They had just driven over to Winamac to stop and see Michelle's aunt, Linda Ligocki. They had hoped to see Michelle's cousin and her new baby, but Renata, Joe, Doran, Lily and Joe Roan had gone to Culver to visit with Renata's father, Dr. Charlie Heinsen. Michelle and Derek are counting the days until their wedding on Sept. 17, when they will exchange vows at the Parkview United Methodist Church in Peru.

Tom and Barb LaFollette and their granddaughter, Shelby Bohac, were among those who attended the Monterey Days festival Monday, Sept. 5. They participated in the parade by riding in Tom's 1957 Chevy Bel-Air convertible. (They won first place in the pre-1960s class.) Later in the day, they were joined by Shelby's parents and brother, Terry and Karina Bohac and Nick, for the annual ox roast hosted by the Monterey legion post.

Jon and Barb Gast were in Winamac Monday. They enjoyed a Labor Day visit with Jon's parents, Stuart and Rachel Gast.

Ruth Cogdill was a guest at Tortuga Inn, home of her daughter and son- in- law, Linda and Gordon Logocki, over the Labor Day holiday. Joining them Monday evening were the Ligockis' daughter and her family, Renata, Joe, Doran, Lily and Joe Roan, and family friend, Dale Fleming. Tuesday evening, the group celebrated Gordon's birthday with a meal of eggplant parmesan, tossed mixed- greens salad and homemade almond pound cake prepared by Linda. Afterward, they watched old movies and caught up on all the family news. Ruth returned home Wednesday morning after enjoying a nice breakfast with Linda, Renata and Joe Roan.

Barb and Jon Gast traveled to Logansport Wednesday, Sept. 7. They took care of some errands before enjoying a visit as guests of Barb's sister, Bea Ann Clark.

Don and Pauline Scales traveled to Ft. Wayne Thursday, Sept. 8. After taking care of a few errands, they joined their daughter, Ellen Heiden of Columbia City, for a visit over dinner.

Helen Whiteman had company Thursday. Coming over for a visit and to join her for supper was her son, Kevin Whiteman of Winamac.

Linda Garner had company Friday, Sept. 9. Staying with her for a few hours in the afternoon were her grandchildren, Trey, Brianna and Kaylyn Young of Twelve Mile.

Linda Bangel of Schoolcraft, Michigan was a weekend houseguest of her parents, Mary and Earl Bangel.

Pauline and Julie Brown had a fun time attending the Caston vs. South Newton high school girls' volleyball game Saturday morning, Sept. 10. One of Julie's "munchkids", Anna Douglass, is a member of the JV team. They also had the opportunity to visit with Anna's mother and sisters, Angie Douglass, Candy Field and Camile Zimpleman.

Ruth Ann Anderson had a very busy day Saturday. She began by attending a football game at Rochester. Her great- grandson, Adam Luhnow, was one of the players for Rochester. In the evening, she accompanied her daughter, Joyce Luhnow, and Joyce's children, Doug and Beth Luhnow and Chris and Hank Riffle to Warsaw. The family had a great time attending the Oak Ridge Boys' concert at the Wagon Wheel theatre.

Barb and Tom LaFollette and Shelby were in Kokomo Saturday. They helped serve breakfast at a memorial fundraiser in honor of Frank Martino and Frank Pickens. The meal at Martino's Italian Villa benefited the We Care organization of Kokomo. (The We Care organization assists local families at Christmastime.) Friends and family from as far away as Tennessee were able to come to the event for which the Martino and Pickens families are very grateful. (The surplus food from the event was donated to the Kokomo Rescue Mission.)

Linda Garner enjoyed a visit with her sister, Phyllis Koontz, Saturday. They met at Lynn's Coffee Shop for lunch and a chat.

Beverly Perry of Springfield, Ohio arrived Saturday for a weekend visit with her mother, Marie Smitley.

Donnabelle and Bill Fisher had company recently. Arriving during the weekend for a week-long visit was Mary Evans of Goshen.

Jackie Heidenreich and Rose Barton enjoyed a little shopping, and dining at Kosta's restaurant in Winamac Saturday.

Pauline and Don Scales had a few visitors Saturday. Stopping by early in the day for a chat was their son, Bruce Scales of Fulton. Joining them later for a visit and to attend Grass Creek's Depot Day were Don's sister and niece, Patty Tarver and Darlene Snow.
